

ELEVATE

AT THE BUSCH SCHOOL OF BUSINESS

PROGRAM OVERVIEW

ELEVATE is a unique approach to cooperative education that offers an opportunity to hire the best business students from Catholic University. Students make meaningful contributions to companies, grow under the guidance of workplace management and ELEVATE advising, and create a hiring pipeline relationship. The program puts an emphasis on developing both hard and soft skills. ELEVATE will create opportunities for students to combine their classroom education, where they are learning about the value and dignity of work, with meaningful work experience, where they can apply what they learn to contribute to a company.

ELEVATE ADVISOR - HANNAH CUNDEY

Hannah grew up in Augusta, Georgia before attending The Catholic University of America Busch School of Business for her undergraduate studies. Upon graduation, Hannah spent a year and a half working in business development for Interos Inc. She specialized in lead generation for her sales team and gained expertise in program management and marketing. Hannah always looks to learn about student backgrounds and career aspirations to ensure the perfect fit within ELEVATE.
